Six UN Nations In Pact

US Joins Others In Move To Send A Peace Patrol To Check Asian War

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—The United States today joined five other U.N. nations in a move to send a peace patrol to check on the threat of a spread of war in Southeast Asia.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief American delegate, said there is a "real and continuing threat" to Thailand, sponsor of the peace patrol idea.

Thailand originally wanted the U.N. Peace Commission to go into Laos and Cambodia, two states of Indochina, but withdrew that idea under French and British pressure. Its resolution as finally introduced before the Security Council calls for the investigators to go only to Thailand, and seek further authority if they desire to go elsewhere.

The resolution received the support of six of the seven Security Council members—the United States, Britain, New Zealand, Turkey, Nationalist China and Brazil. Thus the peace patrol will be set up unless Soviet Russia vetoes the proposal. The Russians will make their views known Friday when the council resumes consideration of the proposal.

Backers of Thailand's proposal hope that the presence of international observers next door to Indochina would deter the Communists from expanding the fighting beyond the Indochinese borders.

If the Soviets cast their anticipated veto when the resolution is expected to take her request to the General Assembly, where big-power veto does not operate.

Two Are Injured In Collision Here Wednesday Morn

A collision at the High Point intersection of Highway 65 and 32nd Street about 8:45 a.m. Wednesday resulted in damage to two automobiles and minor injuries to the two drivers.

According to State Trooper Pete Stohr, Mrs. Floyd Moore, 28, 1618 West Broadway, driving a 1953 Mercury sedan, was headed south on Highway 65 and started to make a left turn, and a 1948 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Gerald Walker, 19, was headed north on the highway when the cars collided.

Mrs. Moore, an expectant mother, was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing ambulance suffering from shock, bruises, and abrasions of the right elbow and left knee. She was treated by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer.

Walker suffered a laceration over the left eye. He was treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

The left portion of the Chevrolet was damaged and the right front of the Mercury was smashed.

The city patrol car, with Officers Ellis and Franklin, was cruising at the city limits and the officers, seeing the wreck, went to the intersection and handled traffic until the State Patrol arrived. The wrecked cars were towed in by the Chamberlin wreckers.

McCarthy Admits He Signed Schine Oath He Said He Never Saw

But Insists He Made 'No Recommendation' For Army Commission; Previously He Said He Never Saw Application Which He Signed

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McCarthy swiftly enough, he may bring it to you." McCarthy said, as Welch's face registered surprise. "Absolutely not, not the way you worded it."

But McCarthy insisted a government worker who has evidence the head of a government bureau is not acting against persons suspected of subversion has the "duty" to report this information to McCarthy.

Welch wanted to know whether this was true even if the documents turned over to McCarthy had been stamped "secret" by the FBI.

"If we can cover up wrongdoing by any stamp of secrecy," McCarthy said, "this nation won't have long to live."

Welch asked McCarthy if he meant that any "disgruntled employee" who didn't think the head of his agency were acting fast enough should go to McCarthy.

McCarthy snapped back angrily that Welch was making cracks about persons who had given the Wisconsin senator information and that McCarthy resented the word "disgruntled."

Welch said it was all right with him to delete the word, "disgruntled," and make it "any ordinary employee."

McCarthy said that if government workers had followed Welch's reasoning, Alger Hiss "would at this moment be holding a high position in government."

Welch told McCarthy he wasn't trying to attack him, that he was merely trying to "illuminate the situation."

McCarthy replied: "I understand exactly what you're trying to do, Mr. Welch."

Show 'Payoff' Checks Today In Labor Trial

Federal Witness Identifies Them In St. Louis Court

ST. LOUIS (P)—Checks totaling $28,190 and which allegedly went to AFL leaders as a payoff to obtain better labor relations were identified today by a government witness in the trial of five AFL leaders on labor racketeering charges.

The testimony was by William Eastman, secretary of the O. R. Burden Construction Co. of Tulsa, Okla., the pipeline contractor from which the defendants are accused of receiving a payoff.

Under cross examination, Eastman acknowledged his firm had charged the total paid through the checks to a pipeline firm for which it was doing the work.

On trial are Lawrence Callanan of the Steamfitters Union, Carl J. (Dutch) Bianchi, of the Hoisting Engineers, R. M. Secor of a Farmington Building, Laborers Local 44 and Lawrence A. Thompson, former business agent for a Cape Girardeau Teamsters local.

Eastman said the checks were issued by his company on ostensibly false invoices for materials and rental of equipment. Earlier in the trial O. R. Burden, head of the firm, testified the company did not use any equipment for which the checks were issued.

Three of the checks totaling $15,970 went to the Washington (Mo.) Equipment Co., in which Bianchi, Poster, Thompson and Secor held stock.

Twelve members of the race sought and were denied admission to the pool Tuesday. The step came after a delegation from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had appeared before the city council Monday night to demand that Negroes be allowed to use the pool.

Chillicothe is the smallest city in the state where such a step has been taken. Several larger cities have opened their pools to Negroes this spring without incident.

Carl Johnson, Kansas City attorney, said today reports on the Chillicothe action would be reviewed by state and national officials of the NAACP before any legal action was taken.

City officials, in the absence of Mayor R. B. Taylor said in the pool probably would be closed pending final action.

Ike Not Decided On Race

Giving No Thought To Whether Or Not He Will Run Again In 1956 Election

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said today he is giving no thought now as to whether he will seek re-election in 1956.

The President also told his news conference his forthcoming conference here with Prime Minister Churchill was a suggestion by Churchill to combat what Eisenhower termed the theory that there is a great rift between the United States and Britain.

Eisenhower said the main purpose of the conference, to be held at the White House the weekend starting June 25, is to make the alliance between the two nations as strong as possible.

The President's remarks regarding 1956 were touched off by a newsman's reminder that Eisenhower's chief aide, Sherman Adams, suggested last week that Eisenhower might not run for the presidency if the Republicans were to lose control of Congress in the elections this fall.

Eisenhower was asked whether such a political development in November might have this effect on his plans.

He paused for a moment, then laughed. Then Eisenhower went on to say that to his best knowledge the matter of what he will do in 1956 never yet has been discussed with him, except perhaps in a facetious manner.

The President said he was not going to make any prediction on that matter. He added, to a round of laughter, that what happens then is sufficient unto the day and the evils thereof.

He mentioned the great world problems confronting the United States and said those are occupying his main attention at this time. He said that not by any matter of means was he casting his mind forward to 1956 at this time.

A reporter then noted that Adams, in his remarks last week, had mentioned the possible loss of Congress to the Democrats as only one of three factors which might cause Eisenhower not to seek a second term.

Adams declined to disclose the other two and the President was asked whether he knows what they are.

Laughing, Eisenhower said Adams had mentioned to him just before the news conference that he might be asked about those other two conditions. The President quoted Adams as saying he hadn't even told Eisenhower about them, but he would do so some other time.

The news conference questions dealt with several matters, among them:

Farm legislation—The President again declined to say whether he would veto any bill to continue government price supports at a fixed 90 per cent of parity, instead of providing for a shift to the flexible price support plan advocated by the administration.

In response to a question, Eisenhower said again he never had advocated during the 1952 campaign government price supports at 100 per cent of parity. He said he was talking of 100 per cent of parity in the market place, and stressed that he feels there is a big difference.

It is noted that a standard designed to give farmers a fair return for their products in relation to the cost of things they buy.

On another farm matter, the President declined to commit himself on a House Agriculture Committee proposal to hike the price support level of butter and dairy products to 80 per cent of parity from the present 75 per cent. He said the price support level has not been brought to his attention, but that he is very much in favor of the idea of gradualism in dealing with farm problems.

He replied he intends to paint (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 2)

Segregation Problems In Missouri--

Chillicothe Faces Legal Test On Negroes Using Swim Pool

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chillicothe city officials today faced the prospect of legal action over the use of the municipal swimming pool by Negroes.

Twelve members of the race sought and were denied admission to the pool Tuesday. The step came after a delegation from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had appeared before the city council Monday night to demand that Negroes be allowed to use the pool.

Chillicothe is the smallest city in the state where such a step has been taken. Several larger cities have opened their pools to Negroes this spring without incident.

Carl Johnson, Kansas City attorney, said today reports on the Chillicothe action would be reviewed by state and national officials of the NAACP before any legal action was taken.

City officials, in the absence of Mayor R. B. Taylor said in the pool probably would be closed pending final action.

In Kansas City, the Swope Park pool was opened Monday after being closed down for two years during a legal battle over segregation. Members of both races are now using the pool, and city officials said today there had been no incidents, but attendance had been small due to the weather.

Swimming pools began in 1951. The federal district and appeal courts upheld the plaintiffs. The city then filed a writ of certiorari which was denied by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Segregation in St. Louis ended in 1950. There was a disturbance at Fairgrounds Park, but there has been no trouble of consequence since then. Negroes have been admitted to municipal pools in St. Louis suburbs for several years.

St. Joseph admitted Negroes to one of its city pools for the first time this spring.

At Poplar Bluff Negroes use the municipal pool two days a week at their own request.

Jefferson City built two pools several years ago, one in the Negro section and one in municipal park. A park board spokesman said there had been no demand to open the white pool to Negroes and it appears unlikely to be any since both pools have equal facilities.

Lincoln Will Vote On Levy For Building

Special One-Year Levy of $1 Would Provide 4 Rooms

The board of education of Reorganized School District No. 2, Lincoln, is submitting a proposal of a one-year special levy of $1 for a new building to alleviate crowded conditions in the classrooms of the school.

The proposal will go before the voters of the district on Wednesday, June 30, at a special election. Voting places will be the Santiago and Lincoln schools.

The one-year levy, which would not bear interest, would be with state funds available to be sufficient to erect and equip an elementary school house addition containing four classrooms and a small storage room.

This special levy would be in addition to the $1.25 approved by the voters of R-2 last April for the teacher and incidental fund. The $1 special levy would yield approximately $26,000, the assessed valuation of District R-2 being $2,650,710. In addition to this amount, the state would match money with the district up to $25,000. This means that the state would pay approximately one-half the cost of the building proposed.

The board said it needs to be pointed out to the voters that this proposed levy would be in the form of a tax levy and not a bond issue. The levy proposal requires a simple majority vote for approval, not a two-thirds majority vote as required on a bond issue.

By voting this levy for one year only, $12,775 in interest would be saved. (That would be the amount of interest charged on a $30,000 bond issue run for a 20-year period.) There are, of course, no interest charges on a tax levy.

It is noted that the board has decreased the building program sufficiently to cut the local share from $50,000 to $30,000, which was accomplished by cutting out the lunchroom-all purpose room proposed originally. This decrease was necessary so that the taxpayers would not be overburdened by an amount larger than the $1.00 proposal. The state aid would be the same under either proposal.

The board deems it absolutely essential that four classrooms be provided to relieve crowded conditions and assure the children of District R-2 an opportunity for a good education. Through this $1 tax levy this can be accomplished at a savings of $12,775 interest charges. (Assuming that an assessed valuation was $3,000, the tax levied for the building addition would amount to $30 for the year only.) This tax would be payable only for the year 1954. Even with this additional levy, District R-2's taxes would still be on a par or considerably under tax levies of neighboring districts. It was pointed out.

The board of education of District R-2 is urging the people to support this $1 building levy and reports: "Members of the board have worked many long and tedious hours in an attempt to present a proposal to the people that will help to alleviate present crowded conditions. Board members are taxpayers themselves and would never request the people to approve a proposal they would not approve themselves. They are working in the best interests of the patrons and the children of the district. The board feels that the people are acquainted with the crowded situation and fully realize that the need is urgent. Will you please support the proposal set forth by your elected representatives to the school board?"

Citizens Organization Formed Here For Welfare of People

The temporary organization of a citizens committee for good government and the welfare of the people was formulated at a mass meeting of about 100 persons held in the Assembly Room of the Courthouse Tuesday night. Plans were made for completing the organization into a permanent committee and the next meeting was called for Tuesday, June 29.

Also, the group voted to have an attorney ask the prosecuting attorney of Pettis County to write the attorney general of Missouri for an opinion on the legality of the rezoning election held in Sedalia during the day.

Dr. J. H. Boger was elected temporary chairman with Del Heckart as his vice chairman, Fred Handley as secretary and Clay Swope as treasurer. These men, as an executive committee, were instructed to bring nominations for members of the board of directors to the next meeting.

In considering a board of directors, Dr. Boger pointed out there were four groups represented in the initial group for this organization and he felt all should be represented on the board. The four, he pointed out, were: the churches, the garden clubs, the grocers and homeowners.

Having called the meeting, Dr. Boger presided and in opening the meeting announced the results of the day's election, in which the proposal to rezone a Broadway location for Safeway was defeated. The announcement was greeted by great applause.

A vote of appreciation was proposed by Boger "for Fred Handley and the women of the garden clubs and churches who worked so hard to help bring this victory today," that carried with another round of applause.

Handley reported that an out-of-town attorney had been retained by a group of citizens relative to the day's election and said the lawyer was prepared to take whatever action the group wished. It was then voted that he be instructed to write to the prosecuting attorney of Pettis County to request that the prosecutor write the attorney general of Missouri for an opinion as to the legality of the election.

Donations were received toward the payment of the attorney fee.

Since no name for the committee was decided upon, it was suggested that a committee be appointed to consider a name that would be suggested to the group at a later meeting.

It was pointed out by Boger, Irvin Raut, Dick Batties, Del Heckart and others who spoke that neither the committee, nor Tuesday's meeting, were interested only in the Safeway rezoning. The speakers said there were many matters of importance to the citizens that should be considered from time to time and the chairman added, "We must keep the guard up continuously for the welfare of the community."

All those present were reminded that the committee is to be non-partisan and non-sectarian and all were asked to bring at least five more persons with them to the next meeting.

New Proposal On Indochina By Red China

Move Comes While Western Diplomats Debate Suspension

GENEVA (P)—Red China's Chou En-Lai came up with a new Indochina cease-fire proposal today as Western diplomats debated whether or not to suspend the Indochinese conference.

Details of Chou's plan were not disclosed immediately, but U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith was understood to have said the proposal warrants consideration.

French sources described the new proposal as a step forward. Chou made a distinction between local and foreign troops in Indochina and said that naturally everyone wanted the foreign troops to leave. He said this proposal should be considered by the high commands of the two sides both in Geneva and in the field.

His proposal was made during a debate on the problem of Laos and Cambodia, but he did not mention these two specifically in his remarks about the withdrawal of foreign troops.

Jean Chauvel, French delegate, said Laos and Cambodia want attributes of sovereignty and the easiest way to accomplish this was by withdrawing foreign troops. He said France would be willing to pull her troops out, subject to the agreement of the Laos and Cambodian governments.

The nine-party conference was recessed until Friday afternoon to give the delegates time to study the Chinese Communist proposal. They also hope to know by the end of the week whether the French government will be able to form a new French government.

Meanwhile, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was reported firmly opposed to British-American plans to suspend the conference.

Bidault flew in from Paris this afternoon for a dinner meeting with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith. French sources said his sole purpose in coming back was to try to prevent a breakup of the conference.

Britain and the United States were reported to be studying the possibilities of setting up a standby group to remain in Geneva during the proposed suspension or recess in the Indochina talks.

An authoritative source said some sort of a recess in the nine-party conference probably will be agreed on before the end of the week, but that there is no thought now of a complete break off of the talks.

France reportedly is opposed to any outright adjournment of the negotiations with the Communists, at least until after a new government has been set up in Paris and (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 4)

McKinleys Buy St. Francis Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKinley, Kansas City, on Wednesday took charge of the St. Francis Hotel, Third and Lamine, having purchased it from Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bauman, who had operated it in recent years. Mr. Bauman bought it 12 years ago.

The new owners contemplate numerous improvements and will first make some changes in the lobby as well as in the upper parts of the hotel.

Mr. McKinley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. McKinley, formerly of Cole Camp, conducted a hotel business in Kansas City up to the time of his father's death last March. The newcomers in the hotel business have a son, William, age 5, both are members of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauman, who some time ago purchased the Palace Hotel, Fulton, will continue its operation and will spend part of their time at their summer home at Osage Beach, Lake of the Ozarks.

Bill "Butch" Shaw, 8, a member of a Little League team, riding his bicycle at 12:30 p.m. at Fifth and Kentucky on his way to practice, was in collision with an automobile driven by Vashti Omega Sims, 109 West Cooper. He was thrown from the bicycle and his left leg injured. He suffered other bruises and contusions.

An x-ray picture, taken on arrival at the hospital, showed a fracture of one bone in his leg.

The driver of the automobile, which was going north on Kentucky, was taken to the police station where she posted a $200 signed bond after being booked for careless and reckless driving.

The injured boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Shaw, 1603 East Seventh and he was taken to the Woodland Hospital in the Gillespie ambulance. He was given treatment by Dr. R. A. Enoch.

The boy's father is an alderman from the third ward.

Safeway Proposal Defeated

Voters Ballot 315 Majority Against Rezoning Broadway Area for a Market

The referendum election regarding the rezoning of property on Broadway for a Safeway supermarket was opposed by a majority of 315 votes in a special election Tuesday. The vote was 1902 for rezoning and 2217 against rezoning.

The Democrat handled 284 telephone calls Tuesday night, giving results of the election to that many persons who phoned to request the information.

The election is expected to make a dead issue of the Safeway proposal to erect a market at the location on East Broadway, bounded by Massachusetts, Lamine and Ninth. At the council meeting when the referendum was requested the attorney for Safeway said the firm would abide by the will of the voters.

Previously the matter had gone before the former zoning board and was denied and then it failed to secure the necessary two-thirds majority to be passed by the council in overriding the zoning board.

The results of the election are as follows:

First Ward
Mark Twain school was 203 for rezoning for Safeway and 381 against; Hubbard school 353 for and 15 against. Total of 556 for and 396 against in the First Ward.

Second Ward
Jefferson school 74 for and 56 against, the total vote in the Second Ward.

Third Ward
Washington school 468 for and 406 against; Whittier school 198 for and 226 against. Total vote in the Third Ward was 666 votes for and 672 votes against.

Fourth Ward
Broadway school 287 for and 687 against; Horace Mann school 219 for and 406 against. The total vote for the Fourth Ward was 506 for and 1093 against.

Council Approves Election Returns
(By D. Kelly Scruton)
The City Council met in recess meeting Tuesday night, at which time the special election returns were approved by the council on the rezoning of property on East Broadway. The council also passed three resolutions regarding curb and guttering.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock with City Clerk Winston Ream reading the minutes of the meeting on Tuesday night, June 7, which was recessed until Tuesday, June 15.

The report of the election, which had been canvassed by Mayor J. H. Bagby and Clerk Ream a few minutes before the meeting began, was read. The council moved to accept the report.

The three resolutions on curb and guttering were then read: The first, being on abutting from Park to Stewart; the second on Fourteenth, from Park to Sneed, and the third on Park from Eleventh to Sixteenth. All three were unanimously adopted and will be advertised immediately.

Councilman Kelley, chairman of the finance committee, reported on the cost of the special election held Tuesday. He stated the estimated cost of the election, advertising, printing of the ballots, judges and clerks, totaled $307.

There being no other business, the meeting was adjourned.

Yesterday at Hearings—

Memoranda Supporting Mac's Charges Starts Verbal Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) moves back into the witness role today for probably the final scenes of the stormy and wide-ranging inquiry into his dispute with high Army officials.

McCarthy professed readiness for a quiet windup, but there was opposition questioning — which could lead to new disputes — over the origin and timing of 11 typed memoranda in support of the Wisconsin senator's "blackmail" charges against Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams.

Joseph N. Welch, Boston lawyer who speaks to McCarthy only on the record, touched off a verbal battle over the memoranda yesterday as the Senate Investigations subcommittee heard the last of testimony from Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.

Welch, special counsel for Stevens and Adams, made an effort to discredit the memos and suggested that Mrs. Mary Driscoll, McCarthy's secretary, had not typed one of them as she had testified.

McCarthy demanded that Welch take the oath and give any information he might have "that Mrs. Driscoll is not telling the truth."

Welch, who has clashed with McCarthy before, ignored the demand. McCarthy voiced confidence that he has refuted the Stevens-Adams charges that he, Cohn and Carr exerted improper pressure to get preferential Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former aide drafted last Nov. 3.

He told newsmen he plans to "inject nothing new in this thing that would cause more delay."

Yesterday McCarthy told the subcommittee, on which he has vacated his seat for the current hearings, that the charges against Cohn, his chief counsel, and Carr, chief of staff, have been proved false. Carr was dismissed as a principal in the case on May 26 by a 4-3 vote when subcommittee Republicans overrode Democratic opposition.

Army witnesses repeatedly have denied the McCarthy-Cohn charges that they attempted to use Schine as a "hostage" in trying to sidetrack an investigation of alleged Communists in the Army.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said Welch had assured him he could finish his cross-examination of McCarthy during the day. Whether the hearings would lap over into a 56th day tomorrow appeared to depend on the amount of senatorial questioning.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), subcommittee member who has tangled most often with McCarthy, said his questions would not take "too long."

Welch precipitated yesterday's principal battle when he suggested that a Jan. 15 memo Carr said he scribbled out and handed to Mrs.

Driscoll to type was not typed by her at all.

McCarthy broke in to say he was "getting awfully sick of these innuendoes." He said Mrs. Driscoll had testified that she typed all of the memos.

"If you have any information that Mrs. Driscoll is not telling the truth then you should be willing to take the oath and give us the information," McCarthy said.

"If not, Mr. Welch, let me say you should either apologize publicly to Mrs. Driscoll or take the oath and tell us what information you have."

Welch replied that the memo showed on its face that it was from "Francis P. Carr." He told Carr that "she never called you Francis in her life, did she?" Carr said that while his name was really "Francis P." Mrs. Driscoll "usually calls me Frank."

McCarthy interjected that there are "memoranda in my office from Francis Patrick Carr, from Francis P. Carr, from Mr. Carr" and if Welch wanted to "accuse a young lady because she says Francis instead of Frank, of lying on the stand, then he should take that stand himself."

Welch suggested that the memoranda had "all of a sudden appeared" at a convenient time. They were made public by McCarthy a day after the Army charges against him and his aides.

It was established that (1) at least on one occasion Carr had written McCarthy a memo on a Sunday he was with the senator, (2) Carr never had acted on another memo McCarthy had directed to him, (3) every memo produced carried references to Schine, and (4) one addressed to Cohn contained only information he previously had given Cohn over the phone.

Carr, who sprinkled his testimony with such expressions as "I don't think so," "I don't remember" and "I am not sure," said memos such as those addressed to McCarthy and Cohn were dictated "for the record." He said he had no "personal interest" in Schine's military career.

Welch noted that Carr's office is on the first floor of the Senate office building and McCarthy's office — where Carr had testified all the memoranda were dictated to Mrs. Driscoll — was on the fourth floor.

Yet, Welch said, Carr had said in one of the memos that "again today John Adams came down here after the hearing." Carr said Adams came to his first floor of-ice after a hearing on the third floor. He said he dictated the memo later in McCarthy's office but perhaps it wasn't a "happy phrase" that he used.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) told newsmen "the evidence clearly indicates that these memoranda were not made up under the normal processes in most offices with which I am familiar."

Cohn wound up his testimony with a tribute to McCarthy. Some spectators thought they detected faint notes of a swan song, but Cohn told reporters he has no plan to resign his job. McCarthy said there is "no chance" the subcommittee will fire the chief counsel.

McCarthy said he recognizes the subcommittee has majority-vote control over hiring and firing staff members, "but Roy has shown he is the type we want as chief counsel — the charges have been proven false."

Winding up his testimony, Cohn called McCarthy "a great American," and said he had "never known a man who has less unkindness, less lack of charity."

Cohn declared he thinks McCarthy and Carr were "badly treated in having to sit here when their only crime has been that of doing their level best to protect this nation against a menace of Communist infiltration."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) asked Cohn whether he felt he had "a capacity to control this committee" — an appraisal previously given by Adams.

"Sir," Cohn replied, "I haven't commented on it because I think the statement itself is too ridiculous to deserve any comment."

McClellan questioned Cohn about the exhibits he had produced to indicate Schine's work after the latter was inducted in the Army, asking at one point: "Where is the rest of it?"

Cohn said these exhibits represented only a "very small part" of Schine's product. He said Schine's notes weren't kept, and that the subcommittee did not keep drafts of reports that Schine wrote.

McClellan told newsmen afterward "the testimony didn't sustain the necessity for the leaves of absence to the extent to which they were granted to Schine." Testimony has been that Schine got frequent weekend and evening passes while doing basic training at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Carr testified Cohn broke off a vacation in Florida in mid-January to return to Washington to work on a subcommittee report. Army witnesses have contended Cohn rushed back to Washington after Adams told him Schine might be sent overseas.

Carr agreed with James St. Clair, assistant Army counsel, that subpoenas for Army loyalty board members were issued by the subcommittee on Jan. 19, the day after Cohn's return. Both sides agree the issuance of these subpoenas did much to bring the McCarthy-Army dispute to a head.

Welch asked Carr about a Dec. 9 memo in which Carr told McCarthy he was "convinced that they (Army officials) will keep right on trying to blackmail us as long as Schine is in the Army."

Welch said that since Schine's tour of duty as a draftee would be two years, Carr must have been "convinced that you were in for two years of blackmail," and he added:

"What were they threatening to do to him besides letting him wear the uniform of the United States Army?"

"Well, I don't know that they were threatening to take him out and shoot him or something like that," Carr said.

"I don't think so," Welch said. "The worst we have heard is KP duty on Sunday, isn't it?"

Carr said that was true but that Adams had linked this with efforts to stop the subcommittee's inquiry. "To you, a grown man, to suggest that KP for Schine on Sunday would in some way stop the hearings must have sounded absurd," Welch declared.

"I thought it was a little foolish, yes sir," Carr replied.

McCarthy said Welch had shown himself "a very brilliant lawyer" but he thought that regardless of "how silly Mr. Welch thinks the activities of Mr. Adams were, they have succeeded in calling off the investigation of communism ... for a period of three and a half or four months."

Miss McFall, C.D. Edwards Are Wed Here

Miss Myrna Rosalie McFall, 1503 East Seventh, became the bride of Mr. Carroll Dean Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edwards, route 3, Sedalia, in a simple, but impressive church wedding at the Broadway Presbyterian Church at 7 o'clock in the evening on Friday, May 28. The Rev. D. Warren Neal performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride's dress of white lace, was fashioned with fitted waist and ballerina length lace skirt over white satin. Her short veil of nylon illusion was lace edged and the carriage was with white satin streamers.

Miss Shirley Joyce Harness, Smithton, as bridesmaid, wore a dress of light pink with blue trim and her accessories were of navy blue. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mr. Charles W. Jett served Mr. Edwards as best man. A small reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, at which guests were relatives of the couple.

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of Smith-Cotton High School and Mr. Edwards is now employed at the Missouri Pacific Shops.

Lincoln Rebekah Lodge Honors Degree Captain

The Lincoln Rebekah Lodge met June 9 with 21 members present. After the regular business session, the lodge honored the degree captain, Mrs. Irene Thomas, and members honored their secret pals whose birthdays or anniversaries were in May, June and July.

Mrs. Loyce Carney sang "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," accompanied by Miss Gladys Chaffey. Mrs. Thomas was presented a corsage of roses and a gift in recognition of her excellent work and cooperation during the past months. Mrs. Margaret T. Hansen read the poem, "Thank God for You," and presented Mrs. Thomas a gift as her way of thanks for the help Mrs. Thomas has given. She was accompanied to the table and seated in her place of honor.

The table was very cleverly decorated in a nautical motif. Covered in blue and white, it had as a centerpiece a pirate ship. The place cards were small boats filled with mixed nuts and lifesavers.

Mrs. Thomas was captain of the ship and the other honored guests were seated as her shipmates. A small rope was around the table and fastened in the rope, in front of each place setting, was a tiny life preserver.

Report Troopers Land by 'Chutes In Guatemala

PANAMA (AP)—Reports circulated here today that a dozen parachute troopers landed on the Pacific coast of Guatemala a few hours after Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz, the army chief of staff, tried to leave by plane for Washington.

This was the latest word to come from Guatemala, where the leftist government has clamped down a tight censorship on the grounds that the regime is threatened by a revolution.

Private advices yesterday said the army had submitted a questionnaire to President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman regarding Communist influences in the country, asked him to break ties with the Reds, and demanded an answer by the end of the week.

The Guatemalan radio denied last night in a series of broadcast that the army had submitted any ultimatum to the president. Informants here said the parachute troops were dropped on the Pacific coast on Monday night.

Puerto Ricans' Case to Jury

WASHINGTON (AP)—The case of the four Puerto Ricans who wounded five congressmen in a wild shooting spree in the House of Representatives last March 1 went to the jury at noon today. Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff instructed the seven men and five women to bring in separate verdicts on each of 19 counts of assault against each of the four defendants—a total of 40 verdicts. Earlier, U. S. Attorney Leo A. Rover told the jury the evidence clearly indicates a verdict of guilty. He termed the shootings "hideous, despicable, ruthless, sadistic."

Chief defense counsel F. Joseph Donohue, former commissioner for the District of Columbia, asked the jury to acquit the four defendants on the first five counts of assault with intent to kill. This offense carries a maximum possible penalty of 75 years for each of the four Puerto Ricans.

"You must be satisfied in your own mind beyond a reasonable doubt," Donohue implored, "that these people intended to kill."

"I submit to you that the evidence does not support such a finding."

Governor Speaks To 4-H Clubbers; Tells of Hay Fund

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Agriculture provides the roots for the tree of state, Gov. Phil M. Donnelly said today in explaining the necessity for last winter's $10 million emergency drought relief program for Missouri's livestock farmers.

In a speech prepared for delivery before delegates to the ninth annual 4-H club week here, the governor said the state's freight free hay program "was vital to Missouri and to all of its citizens"—it was a "remedy applied to the roots of the tree of state so that it might not perish."

"Today, as a result," he said, "agriculture again flourishes and prospers in Missouri."

Noting there are 35,000 4-H club members in the state, he said "our farm boys and girls each year are entering adulthood and full citizenship with better all around preparation for the responsibilities of life than are the youth of perhaps any other occupational group."

Unlocked Windows Cause Stir

That was 60 days, 8 memoranda and 1,000 words ago.

It seems that on the night of 14 April, at about 2000 hours, G-2 agents found a couple of windows unlocked. (That means about 8 p.m. on April 14, G-2 is Army intelligence, normally concerned with ferreting out information on a foreign power or foiling foreign agents.)

The Pentagon has 7,800 windows. The unlocked ones in the suite of offices used by H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, is high-level stuff, including such things as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.)

Came the night of 28 April, between 2000 and 2130 hours: three more unlocked windows. These were in the press room.

By May 3 (or 3 May) a memo had been issued to the proper authorities, starting out, "Subject: Security Inspection of Pentagon Perimeter," and discussing the matter of the unfastened windows. Instructions were issued to "notify occupants that it is a violation of building security regulations to unlock or open any windows."

Who unlocked 'em?

Suspicion pointed first at the corps of window washers. But on 13 May this foreman of the janitorial staff dashed off a memorandum. "Subject: Unlocked Windows," he said the window incident of 14 April couldn't have been his men, because they didn't wash those windows until 15 April. Moreover, his washers reported that a clerk in Hensel's office wanted fresh air.

The interoffice communications rolled on and on and on—from the Pentagon building security officer; to and from "Headquarters, Military District of Washington, Office of the Army Headquarters Commandant"; another one from the "Administrative Facilities Planning Branch, Office of the Secretary of Defense."

Finally the file climbed up to a 1,000-word total. The last issue locks up the case—and presumably the windows. This one is a broadside, aimed at "all occupants of the Pentagon"; the subject: open windows; the order: keep 'em closed.

The reason: it upsets the air-conditioning system—and also upsets the G-2 agents and security officials.

Flanders' Move On McCarthy Heads for Death

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) to strip Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of his committee chairmanships appeared headed today for a quiet death in the Senate Rules Committee.

It was Flanders himself who late yesterday moved—at the prodding of Republican leaders—to send his proposal to the Rules Committee. This was done by a voice vote, with only a few scattered dissenters.

Flanders indicated he would ask the Senate to take the motion away from the Rules Committee by a parliamentary device called "discharge," if the committee fails to act on it by July 15. McCarthy is a member of the Rules Committee, headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.).

A Republican leader said in an interview today it would be extremely difficult to get a majority vote in the Senate to pry the motion out of the Rules Committee. The senator asked not to be quoted by name.

McCarthy is head of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and of its parent Government Operations Committee.

Flanders' motion was based on what the Vermont senator called McCarthy's "contempt" of the Senate. Flanders charged in a speech last Friday that McCarthy showed contempt by refusing to testify in 1952 before a Senate elections subcommittee which looked into his financial affairs.

Reluctant POW Dies In China, Aunt Is Skeptical

TEXON, Tex. (AP)—A telegram from the Chinese Red Cross, saying a sergeant died of heart disease and "complications," was regarded with skepticism today by his aunt.

The soldier was Sgt. Rufus E. Douglas, 27, one of the 21 U. S. prisoners of war who chose to stay with the Communists after being captured in Korea.

The message received yesterday by his uncle, R. C. Howard of Texon, said Douglas died June 8 in a Chinese hospital of "a rheumatic heart disorder with complications."

Mrs. Howard, who reared Douglas after his mother and father died when he was a small child, said:

"I think the 'complications' were caused by them—the Reds. I've told my husband many times that boy wouldn't last a year there. And I don't think the others will either. 'If he had ever had heart trouble, we never heard of it, and I think we would have."

"So far as we've known he's never been sick in his life except for the ordinary childhood diseases."

It's 10W-30 oil! Covers all grades in one.
Resists thinning due to heat, thickening due to cold.

WHEN YOU START YOUR CAR ...

FIVE MINUTES LATER ...

FIFTEEN MINUTES LATER ...

YOU NEED THE PERFORMANCE OF A 10W OIL
You need the performance of a 10W oil every time you start your car. Winter, Spring, Summer or Fall, a cold engine will start quicker and is more protected at starting with a light, quick-lubricating, strong 10W oil. The heavier 20 or 30 oils are not best for this job. 10W oil performance is the first great feature of multi-range New 5-D Koolumotor Oil 10W-30.

YOU NEED THE PERFORMANCE OF A 20 OIL
Now you need the performance of a 20 oil ... an oil with more body to resist thinning out within a hotter engine. At this point, a lighter 10W oil would slip by top piston rings, burn in the combustion chambers, leaving deposits, and be blown out the exhaust as a complete waste. With New 5-D Koolumotor 10W-30, you have the advantages of an economical, engine-saving 20 oil when you need it.

YOU NEED THE PERFORMANCE OF A 30 OIL
Now you need the performance and protection of a 30 oil ... an oil that won't thin down during "hot engine" highway driving. Any oil lighter will burn off excessively, increase engine wear—hurting your car and your pocketbook. New 5-D Koolumotor 10W-30 gives you the performance of a 10W oil ... a 20 oil ... and a 30 oil. Indicted Man Escapes Jail At Carlinville

CARLINVILLE, Ill. (AP)—William A. Bender, 30, under indictment for armed robbery, broke out of the Macoupin County jail early today and fled with a pistol and sub machinegun taken from the jail arsenal.

State police said Bender's trail was picked up three hours later at the junction of state routes 16 and 32 about 80 miles east of Carlinville. A search for him continued.

Bender, a Springfield man, was arrested in Peoria last month and charged with the robbery of a tavern in Carlinville on May 7.

Deputy Sheriff Cliff Lambert was unable to explain Bender's escape and seizure of the weapons. State police at Springfield said the fugitive apparently stole an automobile, wrecked it, and then appeared at the residence of George Caufield of Standard City.

Officers said Caufield reported he was forced to drive Bender in his own cab to the state highway junction 12 miles west of Mattoon, where Bender dumped Caufield and resumed his flight alone.

The Race

out to the states the advantages of taking action on the matter. But he added that he does not think it would be proper to say to Gov. Arn of Kansas, for example, that he should call a special session.

Guatemala—The Communist situation in Guatemala is very disturbing to Americans. Eisenhower said, particularly in the light of what has happened in the last few days. He said he was referring to suspension of Constitutional rights, and to arrests of anti-Communists in the Red-tinted Central American nation.

What has been happening, the President went on, follows a path which has been set forth in more than one country.

The Oppenheimer case—the President was told that an unnamed member of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee has said that if the Atomic Energy Commission votes, in effect, to clear Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer for access to atomic secrets, then the congressional committee would insist on questioning members of the commission.

The newsmen who put the question quoted the committee member as having said, on the other hand, the joint committee would not question the commission members if they voted to uphold the suspension of Oppenheimer.

The President was asked for comment on the propriety of that attitude. He replied he had not heard of the statement he was told, so he felt it would not be logical for him to make what he termed any wild answer.

Unemployment insurance—In connection with his call last week for action in Congress to broaden the unemployment insurance program, Eisenhower was asked whether he plans to ask the states to call special sessions of their legislatures to help carry out such a program.

The thing he is trying to do, Eisenhower went on, is to prevent rapid fluctuation in farm prices.

Korea—When Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith returns from the Geneva conference, the President plans to invite representatives of both parties in Congress to the White House to hear a report on those sessions.

Eisenhower said the next step in the Korean situation is for the 16 anti-Communist Allies who fought there to report to the United Nations. He said the United Nations would then have to take some action which kind, he did not know.

Red trade—Eisenhower declared he is not so sure just what the results would be if the United States and other free nations were to cut off all trade with Russia and the satellite countries.

The President was told that Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) had suggested that the best way to halt the spread of communism would be to cut off shipment of all goods, including non-strategic materials now shipped to the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower replied that it was very difficult to know just what would occur if all trade with Iron Curtain countries were ended. He said if such a thing happened the inevitable effect would be to build up ties between the satellites and Moscow.

Geneva Conference

The National Assembly has had a chance to review the Indochina situation.

The United States and Britain were understood to be in agreement that France should not be deserted. They also feel the military talks here between the Vietnamese and the French must continue.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault flew back from Paris today to discuss the situation with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U.S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith at a dinner tonight.

Smith and Eden also saw Jean Chauvel, French ambassador to Switzerland, on the situation this morning. Eden planned to meet later today with Communist China's Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

One plan reportedly being considered by the West would have each of the nine delegations leave in Geneva responsible—but not top-level—representatives to serve as a stand-by group.

This would permit quick resumption of the full conference should developments warrant it.

A high Western source said the French-Vietnam military talks made very little progress so far on their task of defining cease-fire lines. He said, however, they had exchanged maps giving their initial ideas of where the two rival forces should be assembled.

This source said that in the initial exchange both sides "claimed everything." He acknowledged that this was usual in the first stages of bargaining, but that in this case events in Indochina might be the deciding factor.

The United States was reported still firmly opposed to any move to divide Indochina into two zones. The feeling in U.S. circles is that this would mean permanent partition of Indochina. The United States and France were understood to be pressing for a series of troops would be assembled after an armistice.

The Indochina parley appeared as hopelessly deadlocked as the Korean phase of the Geneva talks, which ended last night after seven fruitless weeks.

British Foreign Secretary Eden told delegates Monday he felt the talks should be suspended unless the Communists made drastic changes in their position.

It appeared certain that neither Eden nor U.S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith intends to remain in Geneva after this week.

The Communist delegates were expected to oppose the end of the Indochina talks just as they tried to block adjournment of the Korean discussions yesterday.

political purposes. In such a case, he said, Congress would not stand idly by and allow it to cover up its dereliction with a stamp of secrecy.

At another point in the hearing, McClellan asked McCarthy if he stood by his statements that the Army action in this case had given the greatest aid and comfort to the Communists he had ever seen.

McCarthy said there had been other instances that had given more aid and comfort to the Reds. "Are you saying your charges are an exaggeration?" McClellan asked.

McCarthy said this was not so, that he was talking about aid to the Reds as a whole, not just in relation to internal subversion.

Mundt and Welch said at the luncheon recess they had given up earlier hope of bringing the hearings to a wrap-up this afternoon. Both said it now seems more likely that the end will come tomorrow.

Mundt said he would not run an evening hearing today because he doesn't want anyone to think he is "pressurizing" anyone to skip important questioning.

During the debate on McCarthy's receiving secret information, McCarthy protested at one point that the Democrats on the hearings subcommittee wanted "to put me in jail" for receiving information on security risks in the Army, and was also claiming he did not handle it with proper speed after he got it.

Missouri History—

His Study of Soils Proved An Aid to Missouri Farmers

Missourians raise better crops today because of the study this scientist made of the soils of his native state. He became an international expert in geology and soils and a consultant to foreign governments. Do you know his name?

1. Where was his first Missouri home?

A. He was born in a log cabin on a farm in Lawrence County in 1863, while his father was serving in the Union army. As a boy he roamed the Ozark hills, worked on the family farm, and developed a lifelong love of the land. Whenever he could, he attended a four-month country school taught by an itinerant schoolmaster.

2. What was his first job?

A. When he was 17, he was certified to teach in the district schools, for which he was paid $80 a four-month term.

3. Where was he educated?

A. One day he happened upon a catalogue of the University of Missouri and decided to enroll there with money accumulated from teaching and from selling cattle. He was a brilliant student, but was not graduated until he was 26 years old. He was teaching school again at Bethany, Missouri, when he was made a member of the State Geological Survey in 1890. He went to Harvard for further study in 1893-95.

4. How did he use his education?

A. He returned to use his hard-earned knowledge for the benefit of the University from 1895-1910. During his stay he was a member of the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station for the importance of his subject inspired generations of young scientists.

5. What were his achievements besides teaching?

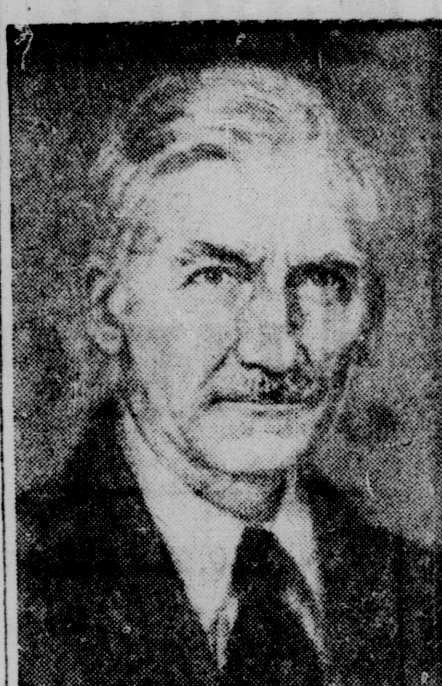

A. He directed the Missouri Soil Survey, 1905-1910, studying and mapping the various types of soil throughout the state. After 1910 he was scientist with the U.S. Soil Survey and traveled and studied soils in Europe, North and South America, and Africa. Scientists credit him with revolutionizing the American concept of soil development and greatly influencing world thought in the field. He died in Harbin, Manchuria, in 1935 while on a trip as advisor to the Chinese Geological Survey.

6. How was his work recognized?

A. He was elected to membership in scientific societies all over the world, and received many medals and honors for his work. In 1916 the University of Missouri presented him with an honorary Doctor's degree, and his portrait was presented to the University in 1931.

7. What was his name?

BENEFITS LAG—The difference between average weekly wage of an unemployed worker and the unemployment compensation money he gets has almost tripled since 1940, as shown on chart above. The Oppenheimer Story--

Defended By Many, Censured By Some--He's Security Risk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man credited by many atomic scientists with unlocking the door to the hydrogen bomb says he would feel safer if Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer did not have custody of the nation's vital secrets.

The scientist is Dr. Edward Teller, 46-year-old University of California professor, said by Oppenheimer himself to have been the "principal inventor" of the fearful H-bomb.

But even as Dr. Teller expressed some reservations about Oppenheimer, father of the atomic bomb during World War II, many of the key men who worked shoulder to shoulder with him in top secret projects rallied to Oppenheimer's defense, saying he was a man of complete loyalty, integrity and devotion to his country.

On the other side of the picture, William L. Borden, former executive secretary of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee, described Oppenheimer as "more probably than not an agent of the Soviet Union."

Teller said he regarded Oppenheimer as loyal, but said "I would like to see the vital interests of this country in hands which I understand better, and therefore trust more."

All this conflicting testimony—and a backstage account of the momentous, tortuous development of the H-bomb—was disclosed in the release of the transcript of hearings before a special security board of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The board ruled on May 27 that Oppenheimer was a loyal American and a discreet one. But, in a 2-1 split, it said the famed physicist with the crew haircut was a security risk—not entitled any more to access to the atomic information he helped store up for 10 years.

Oppenheimer and his attorneys have appealed to the full AEC to overturn this finding. The commission promised a decision this month.

The half-million words of testimony from 40 witnesses ran through the gamut of charges that Oppenheimer had been a contributor and fellow traveler with Communist causes until 1942, that he lied to Army intelligence officers investigating Russian atomic espionage in 1942 and that he opposed an all-out effort to develop the H-bomb as late as 1949.

All this was freely conceded by Oppenheimer, who said he had made mistakes in the past and had once been an "idiot," but carefully guarded the host of secrets "I have had . . . in my head a long time."

And a virtual roll call of former AEC commissioners and top atomic scientists backed up former AEC Chairman Gordon Dean, who described Oppenheimer as one of the few men who can completely demonstrate his loyalty to his country "by his performance . . . a man of complete integrity . . . a very devoted man to his country."

Aside from Oppenheimer and his wife, there were 38 witnesses. Attorneys for Oppenheimer said 25 of them voiced no doubts at all about him.

The most revealing new testimony was the inside version from Dean and other scientists and officials of the pulling and hauling in secret over whether to launch a big H-bomb effort after the Russians exploded an atomic bomb in the fall of 1949, and what happened to that effort. They called the H-bomb "The Super" and "The Gadget."

The picture unfolded was that even after former President Truman ordered the H-bomb project in January 1950, for more than a year the program was stalled and prospects were dismal.

"We never saw anything that really had a chance" of producing a workable bomb, Dean testified, until he called all top scientists together at a meeting at Princeton, N.J., in June 1951, Oppenheimer and several other scientists agreed that original premises about how to build an H-bomb had collapsed and the scientists were worried that the presidential directive could not be carried out.

Dr. J. W. Alvarez, University of California scientist, said Oppenheimer told a Pentagon meeting almost a year after the Truman directive that the H-bomb project "will die a natural death" after Pacific tests planned for 1951 "fail." He quoted Oppenheimer as saying that would be "the natural time to chop the hydrogen bomb program off."

Then, dramatically, in the spring of 1951, Dr. Teller made what was described as a "brilliant discovery" and brought this idea to the desperate June meeting at Princeton.

After two days, Dean said, everybody was convinced the project at last was on the right track and Oppenheimer himself was "enthusiastic . . . almost thrilled."

"That is when it began to roll and it rolled very fast then," Dean said. "I might say that the gadget which we originally thought of in 1949 probably never would work and would have cost in terms of A-bombs a price we could never have paid."

Oppenheimer himself testified that "from then on it became clear that this was a program which was bound to succeed." He said production of an actual hydrogen explosion in late 1952, after the discoveries in the first half of 1951, was "a miracle of speed."

As early as 1942, he said, he and other scientists had in mind a hydrogen bomb that would have "10,000 times the power of the atom bomb." No large amount of work was done on it then, he said, although "it was kept on the back burner throughout the war."

Dr. Teller gave a modest account of his own role in developing the H-bomb. As for Oppenheimer, Teller said he assumes—and will, convincing proof otherwise—that Oppenheimer is loyal to the United States. But he added:

"I would feel personally more secure if public matters would rest in other hands."

Asked whether he believes Oppenheimer to be a security risk, Teller replied:

"I thoroughly disagreed with him in numerous issues and his actions frankly appeared to me confused and complicated. To this extent I feel that I would like to see the vital interests of this country in hands which I understand better, and therefore trust more."

What about security, Teller was asked. Would granting clearance to Dr. Oppenheimer endanger national security?

If it were a question of Oppenheimer's intent, he replied, there would be no harm done in granting him clearance. But if it were a question of wisdom and judgment, it might be better to hold up the clearance, he said.

He added, however, that "I am myself a little bit confused on this issue, particularly as it refers to a person of Oppenheimer's prestige and influence."

In any event, he said, he saw no danger in permitting Oppenheimer access to secret data "without regard to the wisdom of his advice."

Teller said that if Oppenheimer and other nuclear scientists like him had lent him some moral support in 1945—instead of pulling out of Los Alamos, N. M.—he could have developed his "thermonuclear gadget" four years earlier.

Borden, who made the strongest attack on Oppenheimer, read a letter he said he wrote to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover last Nov. 7. The letter related a series of indictments which Borden said justified his belief that Oppenheimer willingly spied for the Soviets.

Borden said Oppenheimer "had no close friends except Communists . . . had at least one Communist mistress . . . was in frequent contact with Soviet espionage agents . . ." He said on the day the first publicly disclosed A-bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Oppenheimer personally urged senior workers in the H-bomb field "to desist."

Attorneys for Oppenheimer protested admitting Borden's letter to the record, saying "this kind of an accusation (was) not dreamed of in this proceeding up to this point."

Retired Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who had a major hand in selecting Oppenheimer to head up the wartime A-bomb project, testified that as he interprets the Atomic Energy Act—passed years after that—"I would not clear Dr. Oppenheimer today . . ." He said he would base such a decision on the scientist's "past record of associations."

Groves said, however, that Oppenheimer "did a magnificent job" at Los Alamos, where the A-bomb was developed, adding, "Naturally, I am prejudiced because I selected him for the job."

Asked if he would again select Oppenheimer if he had to "make the decision again," Groves replied: "I know of no reason why

Dies of Fall Injury

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Charles A. Bell, 65, injured Saturday in a fall from a second-story window, died last night in St. Louis County Hospital.

Bell, of suburban Brentwood, had been installing a window fan but lost his footing on the ladder, dropping about 30 feet to the ground.

not. Assuming all the conditions are the same, I think I would do it."

Groves is now a vice president and director of Remington Rand. In making the testimony public, the Atomic Energy Commission said it was doing so, in a departure from custom in security cases, because Oppenheimer's attorneys had released some documents and because it thought the action will "best serve the public interest."

The commission noted that only "unclassified" — nonsecret—testimony was being made public. It did not say how much was withheld, but there were many indications of deletions in the 992 pages of fine print.

"This release is made in advance of the time—later this month—when the commission will reach its decision," the AEC announcement said.

This was the first official word that the final ruling would be forthcoming before the end of the month, as Oppenheimer's attorneys had urged.

Release of the testimony followed closely on the action of Oppenheimer's attorneys in making public a brief in which they asked the full AEC to reverse the findings of the special board. In a brief filed June 7, they said the scientist is "unquestionably loyal" and has "rendered great public service."

Atty. Lloyd K. Garrison, another document showed, wrote AEC General Manager K. D. Nichols June 9 protesting against use at the security board hearing of some documents Oppenheimer and his attorney had not been permitted to see in advance.

Garrison also urged reconsideration of AEC's rejection of a request that Oppenheimer's attorneys be permitted to make oral arguments before the commission.

The AEC had stipulated that the hearing testimony was for use at noon today. Wire services and individual newspapers, however, went ahead with accounts of it after radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. quoted some parts of it on his MBS broadcast last night.

Lewis said he was "deliberately violating" the release stipulation, and he said:

Dr. Oppenheimer's attorneys have released their own propaganda statement, in an attempt to condition the public mind . . . in another of these trick plays which have marked this case . . .

"I for one am tired of the phony business of reports and documents being leaked to a selected if motley collection of the left-wing press, while the rest of the news world luddies along behind, to pick up the crumbs . . ."

The AEC had no immediate comment on Lewis' action.

Virtually every witness at the hearings before the three-man security board was assured that his testimony would not be made public. The AEC did not say whether they had later been told that the testimony would be released, and Board Chairman Gordon Gray could not be reached for comment.

The printed record—carefully edited for secrets—contained no hint as to what Teller's discovery was.

There has been unofficial speculation that the United States, at some point in its work on the H-bomb, discovered a way to employ a hydrogen-containing compound of lithium — a relatively cheap and very abundant material — in the bomb.

More Rains Due In State

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — More rains appears to be in sight for Missouri. Another thrust of cool polar air is advancing from the northwest and probably will hit the state sometime tomorrow, giving promise of more rains.

The current disturbance left northern Missouri points with some good rains. High winds also buffeted some areas. A violent windstorm ripped the roof off two buildings and pitched another building into a street at Brashear in Adair County. Hail accompanied the storm.

Pleasant Hill received 2.05 inches. Kansas City had 1.50. Warrensburg 1.40. Harrisonville .90. Columbia .77. Chillicothe .67. Sumner .65. Farmington .48. Kirksville .47. St. Louis .44. Malden .25. West Plains .14 and Rolla .11.

The forecast calls for scattered thundershowers in the east this afternoon and in the west and north Thursday.

Thursday's highs are expected to range from near 80 in the north-west to the 90s southeast.

Says He Tried To Postpone H-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution here, sought vainly in mid-1952 to have the United States postpone at least until after the presidential election that year, the H-bomb test carried out on Nov. 1.

Bush recalled his efforts in testimony before the special Atomic Energy Commission Security Board considering the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

Bush said his reasons for seeking a postponement were twofold:

1. "I felt that it was utterly improper—and I still think so—for that test to be put (on) just before election, to confront an incoming President with an accomplished test for which he would carry the full responsibility thereafter. For that test marked our entry into a very disagreeable type of world."
2. "In the second place, I felt strongly that that test ended the possibility of the only type of agreement that I thought was possible with Russia at that time, namely, an agreement to make no more tests. For that kind of an agreement would have been self-policing in the sense that if it was violated, the violation would be immediately known. I still think that we made a grave error in conducting the test at that time, and not attempting to make that type of simple agreement with Russia."

Dutch Elm Disease Gaining In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — The Dutch elm disease was reported today to be gaining headway in the St. Louis area.

F. L. Dinsmore, head of a tree service firm, said samples sent from seven diseased elms in suburban Ladue to the University of Missouri showed the trees were infected with the disease.

The disease, which has killed thousands of elms in the eastern part of the nation, is spread by beetles. Use of sprays and removal of infected elms are recommended as means of combating the disease.

Berlin Is Spy's Paradise With Cloak and Dagger Operations

By HAL BOYLES

BERLIN, Mo. — Pages from a touring notebook:

Berlin is a spy's paradise today. There is probably more cloak-and-dagger stuff going on here than in any other big city in the world. Some 30 Allied intelligence services operate, and how many Russian agencies are in the field is anybody's guess.

Presumably they are all constantly checking on each other, and many a secret agent, looking back across his shoulders, must have the uneasy feeling that the guy following him is himself.

The normal discussion tone in Berlin is "the big whisper." After a few days here even the casual visitor finds himself talking with his hand over his mouth, and he begins to feel like a character in a B-grade spy thriller. This sense of mystery, of being involved in something going on that you don't understand, pervades the entire city.

Many Berliners today have a dislike of being registered or catalogued in any way. The atmosphere of tension that hangs over a divided Germany has created an unwillingness in many to be publicly identified with any cause. They fear that today's seal of approval may turn out to be tomorrow's death tag.

In the Berlin Amerika Haus, for example, thousands of Germans like to come and read the books or look at the films provided by the U.S. government. But many won't take books home with them because to do so they would have to sign a library card.

Under the Amerika Haus program—there are 22 libraries scattered through Western Germany—there is no heavy-handed attempt to propagandize the Germans, but merely to make available to them the best achievements of American social and technical culture.

"We find that if we stick to the job of representing America rather than hitting somebody else over the head, they respect us more," said George Henry of Reading, Pa., director of Berlin Amerika Haus.

The library here draws from 300 to 1,000 visitors a day, many of them dwellers of Russian-occupied East Berlin anxious to get a first-hand peek at the American way of life.

Commie organizations to which they belong usually try to discourage such visits by warning of terrible punishments the Americans will inflict upon them.

"Recently a young Eastern Sector mechanic came to the library to see a film," recalled Henry, "and repeatedly refused to sit in one of the light metal chairs provided for the audience."

"Finally, he reluctantly told why. He said he had been warned that the metal chairs were wired, if he

Mallard Finally Has Its Babies After Delaying Construction

SEAFORD, N.Y. — Long Island's famous mama mallard—whose lackadaisical hatching technique has held up a building project for 23 days—finally has brought five offspring into the world.

But things still are far from ducky for builder Louis K. Hirsch. Three unhatched eggs remained today in her nest—right plunk in the spot where Hirsch has been itching to get his bulldozers into action again.

Hirsch suspended construction work on 49 houses rather than disturb the setting of "Trudy," the cutest wild duck he had ever seen. "Trudy" stuck with the three remaining eggs today. Hirsch said he didn't have too much hope that they were hatchable, but would give "Trudy" a little more time.

"Besides," said Hirsch, "we've got to take the little ones out to learn to swim today." He insisted they were not too young to take to the water in a little pond he had built just for the occasion.

takes time for any truth to catch up with and kill a tall tale.

Bar girls are banned in most American cities today, but they still flourish in some German nightclubs for the edification of the tired businessman.

The girl dances with the T.B.M. or sits across the bar from him, lapping up split bottles of champagne as he tells her the sad story of his life. This form of entertainment comes high. For in return for bending her ear, the tired businessman is supposed to fork over a big tip as well as foot the champagne bill.

Farm Products Bring Over $10 Billions In First 5 Months

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Agriculture Department reported today that farmers received approximately $10,300,000,000 from sale of farm products during the first five months of this year. This was four per cent less than they received in the corresponding period last year.

Receipts from livestock and livestock products totaled seven billion dollars, almost the same as a year ago, but crop receipts of $3,300,000,000 were down 10 per cent.

The decline in total receipts was the result mainly of a smaller volume of crop marketings, though prices also averaged lower. In the case of livestock, slightly lower average prices were offset by increased marketings.

Receipts in May were estimated $1,975,000,000 in the same month last year. The 10 per cent decline this year in total crop receipts was mostly in wheat, cotton, soybeans, tobacco and vegetables. Declines for chickens, eggs and dairy products were offset by a substantial increase in receipts from hogs.

Spellman Wants Flanders to Hold To Welfare of Vt.

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York asked to comment today on a statement by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is dividing the country, said Flanders should "stick to the welfare of his state."

"Is Sen. Flanders uniting us?" the cardinal said. "That's outside his province. I'd stick to the welfare of his state."

The cardinal returned on the liner Independence from a Marian year pilgrimage to Rome, during which he attended the canonization of Pope Pius X.

In a shipboard interview the cardinal was asked about a Senate speech by Flanders in which the Vermont senator said Cardinal Spellman shook hands with Sen.

McCarthy after the Wisconsin senator had addressed a Roman Catholic communion breakfast of members of the New York City Police Department.

In his speech Flanders said, "Did this mean that the imprimatur of 'militant' (nothing objectionable) has been set by the church on these deonair campaigns to divide Americans... on religious lines? It looked like a pretty serious business."

Asked whether his presence at the breakfast represented an "imprimatur" or approval of Sen. McCarthy's views, Cardinal Spellman said:

"Let him (Sen. Flanders) write me a letter if he wants to know. That's the best way to find out. I'm surprised that a New Englander could be that naive. It's wonderful to have been mentioned in the Senate."

Plan Fly-in For Last Day Of State Fair

A meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce office on Monday afternoon for the purpose of making tentative plans for Aviation Day to be held at the Missouri State Fair on the last day of the fair, Aug. 29. The meeting was called by the aviation committee.

That is the day of the 100 mile stock car race in the afternoon and the grandstand review in the evening and the Missouri Resources and Development Division is planning to have a fly-in on that day to include seven states.

Among other features planned for the day will be a spraying demonstration to show how the fields are sprayed by planes, which will not only be very educational and interesting, but also beautiful because the liquid to be sprayed is in colors.

The CAP will also have a helicopter here, which will come close to the grandstand so people may see it.

The Sedalia Air Force Base will be asked to fly some of the big planes over the fairgrounds about noon of that day.

Those who come for the fly-in will have a place in the press section on the grandstand. Most of the planes will land at the Municipal Airport and transportation to the fairgrounds will be provided by the Chamber of Commerce. However, a small number of planes will also land at the airport next to the fairgrounds. It would be impossible to take care of a large number there, however.

Other attractions for the day will be planned later.

Aviation Day is being promoted through the cooperation of the Civil Air Patrol, the Missouri Resources and Development Division, of the Chamber of Commerce, in the absence of Robert Younger, chairman of the Sedalia air transportation committee.

Present at the meeting were: Dale Fearn, from the aviation division of the Missouri Resources and Development; John Carroll, Frank Evans, Bill Padgett, Jack Cunningham, Ross Ewing, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, and Chester A. Brown.

Hope Yoshida Will Give Plans Presently

TOKYO (A)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida was expected to announce plans for his immediate future today, following formal closing of the turbulent 188-day session of Japan's Diet last midnight.

There was some speculation that Yoshida would reschedule a world tour delayed by the political turmoil, but a Foreign Office spokesman said the projected trip still was "postponed indefinitely."

Political observers predicted the Premier soon will accept the resignation of Eisaku Sato, the Liberal party's secretary general, who has been indicted on charges of mishandling a 10-million-yen political donation from Japanese shipbuilders.

Yoshida has blocked Sato's arrest.

Soil Experts Seek to Save 'Blow Land'

AMARILLO, Tex. (P) — Soil experts of six states threatened with dust bowl conditions met today to talk about what to do with "blow land." A spokesman said he wanted to make clear they weren't after government subsidies.

"It will take more than subsidies," declared Waters S. Davis Jr., president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

There appeared to be some thought that the farmer himself—his willingness to cooperate by taking some land out of profitable cultivation—is part of the problem.

Davis, a League City, Tex., man who has been at odds recently with the federal government because of its reorganization of the Soil Conservation Service, did not say so bluntly.

"We are here to draft a program that will attract the cooperation of every individual who makes his livelihood from the soil," Davis said in an interview. "We are not here to ask more government subsidies."

Several views on exactly what is needed came from soil conservation district officers from Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas. The national association headed by Davis sponsored today's meeting but U.S. Department of Agriculture representatives and spokesmen for state governors had a place on the program.

"Lack of cooperation in soil conservation practices has been our greatest obstacle," said Clarence Svedman, national association director from Colorado. "If we can get the kind of program the farmer wants, then he should be willing to cooperate."

Bill Richards, a director in both the national and Nebraska state associations, said, "Too many acres of poor, unsuitable land is being planted to wheat just to obtain larger acreage allotments."

Stanley Marr, president of the Kansas association, placed a lot of blame on the "suitcase farmer"—the farmer who overcultivates one farm, grabs the profits and leaves the used-up farm to move on to another.

Miller told police he recognized his son's voice outside the station. Goodman said young Miller confirmed that he told Mahurin: "Put a gun in his pelly and keep it there. Don't give him no chance. Shoot him and get it over with." Miller and the boy's mother are separated, and the boy has been living with his mother.

Now you can protect your car against both friction and acid—the two major causes of engine wear

NEW CONOCO Super MOTOR OIL

America's First Double-Duty Oil!

Protection 1

OIL-PLATING

conquers friction wear . . . because this exclusive discovery actually fastens a thin film of lubricant to moving engine parts for full-time protection.

Protection 2

ACID-PROOFING

conquers corrosive wear . . . because this exclusive new discovery gives Conoco Super up to twice the cleansing power of other premium oils!

Scientists and automotive engineers have long known that friction and corrosion are the two major causes of engine wear. Some heavy-duty oils offer protection against friction . . . others against acid. But now, from the laboratories of Continental Oil, comes America's first Double-Duty motor oil. It combines two exclusive discoveries (Oil-Plating and Acid-Proofing)* to conquer both major causes of engine wear.

Oil-Plating conquers friction wear. When a car's engine is stopped, ordinary oil tends to drain down into the crankcase. Many times, when the engine is started again, pistons and cylinder walls are not adequately protected—and failure of lubrication can cause friction wear. But here's what happens with Conoco Super Motor Oil with Oil-Plating. The unique Oil-Plating additive gives Conoco Super a molecular attraction for metals. Actually, it plates a thin film of protective oil to the metal parts of your engine...a film that won't drain down even overnight. Thus you get full-time protection against damaging wear due to friction.

Acid-Proofing conquers corrosive wear. This new petrochemical additive was developed and is produced exclusively by Continental Oil Company. It works three ways to protect your engine against corrosive wear:

First, it actually rustproofs your engine. It gobbles up moisture and keeps it harmlessly in suspension, surrounded by tiny spheres of oil, until it is drained out.

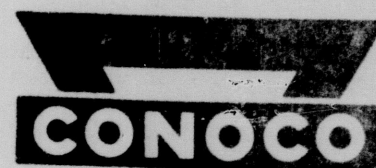

Second, it keeps your engine almost "showroom clean" for the life of your car. That's because it acts as a scavenger in your engine. It collects dust and dirt and holds it in suspension until the oil is drained. It gives Conoco Super twice the cleansing power of other premium oils.

Third, it conquers acid. Acids are formed in your engine by the combustion of gasoline, particularly in stop-and-go driving. ACID-PROOFING actually neutralizes these acids the instant they are formed—thus stopping acid wear before it starts.

New Conoco Super Motor Oil is on sale at Conoco dealers everywhere. Drive in and ask for it today!

Your Conoco dealer will recommend the right grade of new Conoco Super Motor Oil for your car, your climate, your driving conditions.

Yesterday's Games— Durocher's Dough Does Win Trick

By BEN PHLEGAR
By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If Leo Durocher's bank balance holds out there's no telling what heights the New York Giants may reach this season.

Leo's personal investment in the rapid rise of the Giants mounted to $200 today as he hauled out his checkbook and paid off Bill Taylor and Hank Thompson.

Taylor got his hundred for a home run in Milwaukee last Thursday, the only run in a 10-inning victory that moved the Giants into a first-place tie with Brooklyn.

Thompson got into the act last night with a three-run homer after two were out in ninth. It gave the Giants a 5-3 victory over Cincinnati and sole possession of first place.

In neither case did Durocher tell the hitters of his offer before they went to bat.

As Hank ran the count to 2-0 Durocher turned to the bench and said: "If he hits one I'll give him a hundred too."

Thompson and Taylor will be on hand today to collect.

The Giants knew from the seventh inning on that Brooklyn had lost to Milwaukee 7-6, meaning that first place was theirs if they could beat the Reds. Milwaukee took third place as Philadelphia bowed to St. Louis 3-1.

In the American League Cleveland stretched its lead to three games over the Chicago White Sox by whipping Washington 9-3. The White Sox never quite found out what hit them as they fell to the Philadelphia Athletics 11-4.

New York defeated Boston 4-1.

The Dodgers, who lost only 17 games at home all last season, dropped No. 11 last night to the Braves. It was the third straight time Milwaukee has beaten Brooklyn in Ebbets Field this year.

The Braves combed three Brooklyn pitchers for 14 hits and put together four singles in the eighth for the tying and winning runs. Hank Aaron got Milwaukee away to a 2-0 lead with a first-inning home run but Brooklyn led twice, 3-2 in the third after a two-run triple by Junior Gilliam, and 6-5 in the fifth after Duke Snider's 14th home run with two aboard.

Vic Raschi scattered six Philadelphia hits in winning his sixth game for the Cardinals. He gave up a run in the first on two walks and a single by Granny Hamner and helped get it back when he singled in the third in front of a home run by Rip Repulski.

Cleveland's sixth straight victory featured the return to limited action of Al Rosen. The heavy-handed first baseman, who has a fractured finger, appeared in the eighth inning against Washington as a pinch hitter and unloaded a three-run double. The hit helped Art Houtteman post his sixth victory.

The suddenly ferocious Athletics won their fifth in a row, this time at the expense of Bob Keegan, the American League's winningest pitcher. Keegan had won nine and lost only one but against the Athletics he lasted only into the fifth inning.

Raschi Secures Revenge on Phils With 3-1 Triumph

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vic Raschi has secured some measure of revenge against the Philadelphia Phils, who halted a five-game winning streak for him 10 days ago, by hurling six-hit ball here last night.

Rip Repulski's two-run homer backed up the former New York Yankee ace's pitching to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-1 triumph and Raschi's sixth victory of the season.

Raschi also figured in the scoring as he singled ahead of Repulski's third-inning home run.

The Phils' only run off Raschi, who has two losses, came in the opening inning as he walked two men, including Richie Ashburn, who scored on Granny Hamner's single.

The Redbirds' insurance tally came in the seventh. Catcher Bill Sarni opened that frame with a single, took third as Tom Alston doubled, and scored on a sacrifice fly by Alex Grammas.

The Phils missed a scoring chance in the fifth when Johnny Wyrostek doubled to left but was held at second on Bobby Morgan's advanced both runners but Willie Jones fouled out and Ashburn grounded out.

Doubleplays helped Raschi out of possible trouble two other times.

Olson Scores Bloody TKO Over J. Turner

HONOLULU (AP)—Middleweight Champion Carl Bobo Olson scored a blood-spattered one-sided technical knockout over Jesse Turner of St. Louis in the eighth round of a scheduled non-title fight at Honolulu Stadium last night.

Olson weighed 6-14 pounds over the 160-pound limit. Turner weighed 161.

Both of Turner's eyes were closed and he was bleeding from the nose and from cuts under each eye when the fight was stopped in 1 minute 9 seconds of the eighth.

Yankees Money Ahead as Orioles Outdraw Browns

BALTIMORE (AP)—The New York Yankees, who talked about letting Baltimore into their American League, can count their lucky dollars today it was forced on them.

The Yankees played nine times in St. Louis last season and drew 76,129 fans. Last night was the second time they showed in Baltimore and already 76,636 have paid to see them. Visiting teams get paid a percentage of every admission so the Yankees already are ahead of last year due to the switch from St. Louis to Baltimore.

The Yankees have two more games with the Orioles here tonight and tomorrow with prospects attendance will at least equal last night's 29,840.

As far as attendance goes, Baltimore could start needing other American League teams, except New York, about moving to better fan locales.

In 21 home dates, the Orioles have drawn a total of 428,804 for an average of 20,422. That is exceeded only slightly by New York in its own Yankee Stadium. Baltimore should have the top league average after this series with the Yankees.

On the other hand, the Orioles might complain about the payoff they have been getting while traveling. In 27 away dates, the attendance has been only 279,370.

Indians Getting Stan Pawloski At Second Base

FT. LEE, Va. (AP)—Stan Pawloski, a fancy-fielding young fellow with no previous major league experience, could be just what the doctor ordered to cure the second base ail of the Cleveland Indians.

A star for two years with Ft. Lee's powerful Army team, Pawloski was due to report in Cleveland today for a chance to show he can fill in for Bob Avila, the American league's leading hitter, and Avila's understudy, Sam Dente, both sidelined with injuries.

Although Pawloski won't be 22 until September, he's put in four years in the minor leagues and two years at Ft. Lee, from which he is now on 30 days' terminal leave before being separated from service July 29.

He broke into organized ball at the age of 17 with Stroudsburg of the Class C North Atlantic League, where he hit .329.

He caught the eye of Cleveland Manager Al Lopez and General Manager Hank Greenberg when he topped the Class A Eastern League second basemen in fielding with .981 at Reading in 1952. Among those he out-fielded that season was Frank Bolling, now regular second baseman for Detroit. His batting average was .271.

In two seasons at Ft. Lee, in which the Army club has won 107 games and lost only 12, Pawloski batted .346 with 108 runs batted in for 111 games. He has hit .412 this spring with 38 runs batted in for 36 games.

Although a good hitter at Ft. Lee, Pawloski drew most of his raves for his fielding. He was rated one of the fanciest glove men in service baseball, particularly in the art of pivoting on double plays.

Little League— Optimists, Democrat Win Tuesday

Optimists defeated Adco 5 to 4 and the Democrat-Capital took a batfist from the Lions, 16-12, in major league tilts of the Little League at the stadium Tuesday night.

In the first game, which went seven innings, the Optimists scored the winning run on three walks and a single after the affair had been tied by Adco in the top of the fourth. The losers outlived the winners, but walks, coupled with a few hits, allowed the winning tallies to cross the plate.

Democrat-Capital, in taking the second game, scored in every inning except the last one and stopped a fifth frame rally by Lions after seven runs had been scored and the team had pulled up close behind the leaders.

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—The Sedalia Chiefs will bring a 4-game winning streak here Thursday night in an effort to knock the Moberly Miners off the top rung in the Central Missouri Baseball League's first half pennant fight.

The Miners stretched their string of early triumphs to four games by stopping Boonville, 8-6, then dropped a 9-6 tussle with Mexico Sunday night.

Hammer and Reese Lead All-Star Poll

CHICAGO (AP)—Gran Hammer, Philadelphia second baseman, and Peeewe Reese, Brooklyn shortstop took over leading positions for the National League starting lineup in the All-Star poll today.

Hammer passed Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, the former leader, 3,486 votes to 3,252.

Reese took first place over Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves, 2,748 to 2,503.

There were no major changes in the American League balloting. Minnie Minoso, Chicago White Sox outfielder, continued to lead individual vote getters with 4,116. Outfielder Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards topped the National League with 4,012.

Big Catches on First Tries

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP)—Two New York women, who never had been deep sea fishing previously, caught giant size sailfish on the same day. They were on separate boats.

Miss Ingrid Kildegaard landed an 8 foot 2 inch sailfish weighing 76 pounds while her friend, Mrs. Max Phillips, hooked a 7 foot 2 inch weighing 42 pounds.

Miss Kildegaard's sailfish was the largest caught at Boca Raton this year.

Industrial Loop— Adco and T&O Win Tuesday

Adco Blues walloped the DeMolays 12 to 5 and T&O Lime took the National Engineers in game 11 to 6 in Tuesday night's games of the Industrial Softball League.

Two home runs, by Walter and Ditton, helped the Blues in the first game as Stirling took the mound victory and J. Rucker the loss.

The Engineers scored all their runs in the fourth inning and held a 6 to 0 lead until the T&O Lime boys began spreading it on in the final frame. All their 11 runs crossed the plate in that last big inning.

Elwel was the winning pitcher and Thomas took the loss.

Earl Spieler has resigned as the commissioner of the league and Frederick H. Bennett, president of the league, consented to take over the duties of the commissioner until a new one can be appointed. The resignation was accepted with regret, Bennett said, and he pointed out that Spieler had "done a wonderful job."

Bennett came to Sedalia from San Francisco, Calif., where he was a player and manager since 1941. He was a member of the San Francisco and Oakland Industrial League and commissioner of the National Guard Softball leagues.

In 21 home dates, the Orioles have drawn a total of 428,804 for an average of 20,422. That is exceeded only slightly by New York in its own Yankee Stadium. Baltimore should have the top league average after this series with the Yankees.

On the other hand, the Orioles might complain about the payoff they have been getting while traveling. In 27 away dates, the attendance has been only 279,370.

Missouri vs. Rollins Is Postponed, Final Of NCAA Tonight

OMAHA (AP)—The postponed finals of the NCAA baseball tournament are scheduled to be played tonight with Little Rollins College matched with the University of Missouri for the title.

Day-long rains yesterday left the playing field at Omaha's Municipal Stadium too wet and slick for play.

The postponement was considered a break for Missouri, giving the Tiger pitching staff a day of rest. Rollins had a day off Monday.

Both coaches indicated they would stick with their original pitching choices. Art Brophy for Rollins and Ed Cook for Missouri. Both are lefties.

Brophy, a 150-pounder from Midford, Mass., has won eight games without a loss this season. Cook, a Granite City, Ill., boy has a 4-1 record.

Ezzy, Rocky Begin Wait Before Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The long, hard months of training were over. Now the hours grew longer for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles as they sweated out the mental torture of waiting for the opening bell at Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

This is a bad time—the waiting—for most fighters. And most observers feel that it will affect the boxer—Charles—more than the slugging Marciano.

"It's the long ride to the stadium the night of the fight that gets the boxers," said Marshall Miles, who managed the great Joe Louis and saw many of the bomber's opponents freeze before the battle. "They die on that ride."

Miles picked Rocky in 10 or less. "Charles probably will lead for seven or eight rounds," said Miles. "And then Rocky will connect just like Joe used to do."

The odds are 1-2 that undefeated Rocky will make the former champion from Cincinnati his 41st kayo victim. On the fight itself, the 29-year-old Brockton Bruiser held firm as a 1-3½ choice. It was 5-1 against Charles scoring a knockout.

Both gladiators were due to leave their Catskill Mountain training camps late today. Then the fighters will go into seclusion until the noon weigh-in Thursday.

Promoter Jim Norris said there was $300,000 in the till and that he expected it to go up to the stadium Thursday night with between $350,000 and $400,000. He held to his prediction of a $500,000 gate "or more" with a break in the weather.

The fighters will share in another $190,000 or so from the coast-to-coast theater-television and $35,000 from the network radio broadcast.

There will be no home television of the 8:30 p. m. CST 15-rounder.

Flanagan Risks His Title In Gronik Bout

DETROIT (AP)—Del Flanagan of St. Paul risks his lofty welterweight ranking tonight when he meets Detroit's Allie Gronik, a hungry veteran getting his first chance at the big time after seven years of little time boxing.

The 10-rounder from Olympia Stadium will start at 8 p. m. (CST) and will be televised from coast-to-coast (CBS).

An original "Golden Boy," Flanagan is rated behind only Carmen Basilio for Kid Gavilan's welterweight crown. His overall record is 65-7-2 with most of the victories compiled in a whirlwind start.

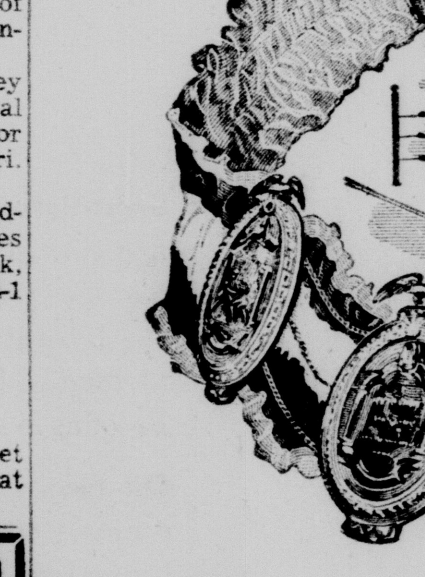

Turning pro in 1947, Flanagan won his first 40 bouts and was unbeaten in his first 52 matches. He scored 28 knockouts.

Since then, however, Flanagan has scored only three kayos. He also had 82 fights as an amateur. He and Flanagan each are 25 and have similar styles. Both like to box from long range.

Gronik, a father of four children, says he's been down but never out. He is unbeaten in his last 13 starts.

Gen. Van Fleet Not Surprised On Geneva Action

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former commander of the U. S. 8th Army in Korea, said today the breakup of the Korean peace conference at Geneva was "no surprise to me" and "I'm glad it finally came about."

The retired general, on a military aid survey of the Far East, said President Eisenhower declared, "We had to go through with it and prove once again you can't believe the Communists—you can't rely on them."

Van Fleet arrived today from Korea and said he planned to visit Formosa "as soon as I can." Earlier, at Seoul airport, Van Fleet told newsmen South Korea has more than enough men to expand its army above 20 divisions.

Informed quarters said it appeared that President Eisenhower has been using Van Fleet—a personal friend of stubborn old President Syngman Rhee—to help South Korea in line since the Geneva talks failed.

Father and Two Sons
Leave on Canoe Trip

ST. LOUIS # — Frank Mason and his two ten-aged sons plan to leave here in a 75-foot aluminum canoe today on a 1,050-mile trip down the Mississippi River to New Orleans.
Mason, a St. Louisian, said he was warned by friends that the lower Mississippi can be dangerous but he doesn't think the trip will be any more risky than one he took in the canoe last summer from Chicago to St. Louis.
"We were constantly dodging towboats in the narrow canals just out of Chicago," he said.
The sons, James, 14, and Richard, also, were on that voyage.
Mason, 44, said he has to be at New Orleans by July 2 so he can get back to work as a clerk with the Terminal Railroad Assn. here.

Chinese Police Check
Commie Propaganda

BANGKOK # — Three Chinese schools in the Bangkok area were searched Monday for evidence of Communist propaganda activities, Thai police report.

Police arrested one Thai and 26 Chinese, mainly merchants and school teachers, in raids on 190 homes.

The Ministry of Education yesterday closed a Siamco-operated school as untrustworthy.
Police Lt. Col. Phote Bhakannud said the arrested persons were members of the "New Junior Democratic Group," which he termed a Communist organization. The Communist party is illegal here.
